

C3 Curcumin Complex

3 Bioactive Curcuminoids

CYTOKINE SUPPORT*

C3 Curcumin Complex features a blend of three powerful curcuminoids: curcumin, bisdemethoxycurcumin (BMC), and demethoxycurcumin (DMC). Curcuminoids are bioactive phytochemicals derived from turmeric (Curcuma longa), a plant used both to promote health and as a spice in food.

Curcuminoids have been extensively researched for their potential to support human health. One of the most researched and proven benefits of curcuminoids is their ability to support a healthy inflammatory process.*

Additionally, the turmeric-derived compounds have been shown to support cellular function and certain signaling pathways related to neurological health.* Curcumin has been shown to exhibit a wide range of actions to support cellular health, cardiovascular function, healthy metabolism, and a healthy response to inflammation and oxidative stress.*
