TriMag Supreme™ is a unique blend of three highly absorbable forms of magnesium designed to support cardiovascular health.* One serving provides 300 mg of elemental magnesium in an easy-to-mix powder. This product contains three forms of magnesium that may support energy production, heart health, blood vessel function, and healthy blood glucose metabolism.* It is naturally sweetened with monk fruit and contains no stevia or artificial sweeteners.

Magnesium is an essential mineral that assists in more than 300 biochemical reactions in the body. It is the second most abundant mineral inside cells. Magnesium helps support cardiovascular health in multiple and different ways. Magnesium has been shown to support a healthy inflammatory response, protect against oxidative stress, and support healthy energy levels.*

Additionally, studies have shown that magnesium may help support a healthy response to blood coagulation. Magnesium is also important in helping cellular balance with other minerals, such as calcium and potassium.*

TriMag Supreme™ contains forms of magnesium that have been shown to be supportive in cardiovascular health.* Magnesium orotate contains two components: magnesium and orotic acid. The orotic acid helps bring magnesium into the cells. In addition, orotic acid may help support energy production. Studies have shown that magnesium orotate can help support individuals with certain cardiovascular diseases who are undergoing treatment, and it can also help support a healthy response to exercise.* Magnesium glycerophosphate has been shown to support heart health in individuals with a history of some heart disease and low magnesium.*
